Frequently Asked Questions – Disclosure Statement EHA

Q: I think I may have a financial relationship, but it is not listed above. What should I do?
A: Err on the side of over-reporting. It is better to disclose redundant relationships than risk omitting relevant relationships. Furthermore, the onus of deciding the relevance of a relationship is not on you but on the EHA.

Q: Will my disclosure be published?
A: Yes. Transparency is the cornerstone of a good disclosure policy. By publishing the disclosures of Members of the Board and Committees etc., EHA hopes to gain public trust by allowing public scrutiny of its organization.

Q: My affiliation and/ or my financial relationship has changed. What do I do?
A: In case your affiliation or financial relationship has changed – which includes the initiation or termination of an affiliation or financial relationship – you must report the change immediately to the EHA Executive Office, no later than 4 weeks after the change occurred.

Q: Many trials are conducted at our hospital. Do I have to list them all?
A: You only need to list those trials for which you are responsible (organisational responsibility).

Q: Do I need to list my investments in mixed share portfolios?
A: Only proprietary interests within the healthcare system need to be disclosed; details on mixed funds are not required.
